

Naval Network Warfare Command

Naval Network Warfare Command mans, trains and equips units to conduct Network Operations, Space, Information Operations/SIGINT and Intelligence missions. NETWARCOM is the USFF N6 and Chief Information Officer to provide Information Management and Information Technology governance, an Operational Commander conducting Network Operations, Information Operations and Space Operations and the Functional Component Commander to U.S. STRATCOM for NETOPS, IO and Space.

Focus Areas

- 1. Deliver NETOPS, IO, Intel & Space Capabilities
 - Establish and sustain portfolio of NETWARCOM capabilities and services levels
 - Improve Information Assurance (IA) certification and accreditation process
 - Continue Navy-wide mandated Cyber Asset Reduction & Security efforts to reduce legacy systems
 - Execute TYCOM role more effectively by improving readiness throughout the domain
- 2. Organizational Alignment of NNFE, NNWC and Intel
 - Realign Naval Intelligence into NETWARCOM TYCOM and the NNFE
 - Determine optimal operational alignment of Naval Intelligence to maximize support to Fleet commanders and Navy Component Commanders
 - Build foundation to identify and apply NNFE financial resources to balance current readiness and future capabilities at best value
- 3. Execute NETOPS, IO/SIGINT & Space effects
 - Improve NETWARCOM Network Operations and increase IO & SIGINT capabilities
 - Ensure Navy fully leverages and influences Space capabilities
 - Execute Maritime Operations Center operations
- 4. Implement NNWC Components of FORCEnet
 - Execute Trident Warrior 08 to enhance coalition partnerships and interoperability
 - Provide CONOPS that define overarching NETOPS, IO & SIGINT and Space standards, policies and governance
 - Develop Next Generation Network (NGEN) and CANES fleet requirements
- 5. Achieve Highest Workforce Character & Professional Standards
 - Develop NETWARCOM workforce
 - Create domain climate that embraces diversity
 - Reaffirm Navy's commitment to service ethics and Navy Core Values

www.netwarcom.navy.mil